PROJECTS

- Bujji Voice Assistant April, 2024
I built Bujji using JavaScript, HTML, and CSS, Bujji is a versatile voice assistant designed to streamline user interactions through speech recognition and synthesis. Its intuitive interface, crafted with HTML and CSS, supports seamless voice commands for tasks like web-search search, weather updates..etc. Bujji offers robust interaction capabilities and real-time feedback, showcasing a blend of frontend development and AI driven functionality to enhance user productivity
- Chatbot Application December, 2023
I developed Chatbot web application HTML, CSS, JavaScript, React.js, Node.js, Express.js and MongoDB. Leveraging React.js for dynamic user interfaces and Node.js with Express.js for efficient backend operations. It integrates MongoDB for seamless data management and storage. The project exemplifies proficiency in Full-stack development, emphasizing responsive design principles.
- Travel Agency Website November, 2023
Created with HTML, CSS, JavaScript, and React.js, this project is a comprehensive web application tailored for a travel agency. Leveraging React.js, the project offers efficient component-based architecture for scalability and enhanced user engagement. This travel agency website showcases proficiency in frontend development,
